Jason Lee Junior High Celebrates May Day Festival

Jason lee Junior High held their annual May Festival on May 5 with morning and evening performances. Both features were well attended and very enjoyable by parents, teachers and students. The main features of the Festival were the selection and the crowning of the Queen, Grand Duchess and Duchesses. The 1972 Queen of the May Festival was LaTanya Kennedy escorted by Marc Fillis. To be chosen as the Queen is indeed a great honor. She is also the A.S.B president at Jason Lee. The Queen must be a ninth grader, participate in school activites, and must have a high grade point average. The lovely Queen chosen had plus beauty also.

The Queen and her Court went dining afterwards, until late hours, then departed home after an evening full of enchantment.

Fort Lewis To Get Credit Card System

Fort Lewis, Wash.—A credit card system similar to Bank Americard and American Express will soon be tried at the Fort Lewis NCO Club.

Captain Bruce E. Jesson, installation club manager, told sergeants major at their luncheon Thursday that a 30-day test of the system is scheduled to begin May 15.

"It will provide better service for the customer and be good business for the club," Capt. Jesson said.

Fifty senior members of the club and 50 other members chosen at random will receive credit cards in the test.

Captain Jesson said that many questions—like who can charge and who will collect in case of non-payment—remain to be answered.

Rules on credit use will hinge on whether a member buys a 6 or 12 months membership, or becomes a permanent member by signing a contract similar to that of the officers club, he explained.

Duty in Calif.

Fort Lewis, Wash.—Who says the Army won't send you to a nice place?

Eighty soldiers of Company A, 58th Signal Battalion, are excited over prospects of four to six months duty in the Big Sur country of California.

Of course, the primary purpose of the trip is work, not fun, and the men will repair some 275,000 feet of open wire and buried telephone cable at Hunter-Liggett Military Reservation.

The main group will depart May 8, transporting themselves and pole climbing equipment, cable reels and splicers in 30 vehicles. An advance party is already at the site.

Deaf Youngsters Visit

Fort Lewis, Wash.—It was the helicopter that was seen and not heard, not the children.

The occasion was the visit to Gray Army Airfield of two classes of deaf younsters from Birney School Annex in Tacoma.

Crewmen and mechanics of the 10th Aviation Battalion, aided by teachers Susan Paine and Joan Pagliolo, still managed to explain some of the whirleybirds' mysterious buttons and switches to the children.

Improvised sign language and hand symbols got the messages through.

Y.E.S. Luncheon Attended by Parents

By Debra Ross, Y.E.S. Reporter

We had an appreciation luncheon on May 5, 1972. The luncheon was for Y.E.S. trainees. Guest speaker for the luncheon was Ms. Daisy Stalworth, manager, Afram House, Inc; Mr. Mel Jackson, Admin. Asst. to City Manager; Rabbi Eliakiam Ben-David, founder and president of International School of Music; and Mr. William Wade, Metro Direction National Alliance of Businessmen. Also attending the luncheon were parents of the trainees, Mrs. Ruth Jeffries, Mrs. Barbara Fisher and Mr. Fred Ross.

Ms. Daisy Stalworth spoke on Social Responsibility in Business and Government. Ms. Stalworth said "don't be defeated and learn job well." Mr. Mel Jackson discussed Community Relations in Government, "Take a look at government, see if you want to get involved, if you want to change the city structure the time is now, learn something about the government," was Mr. Jackson's comment.

Rabbi Eliakiam Ben-David's topic was Togetherness Through Understanding. We were most fortunate to hear him play his saxophone. Mr. Wade's remarks were based on Leadership. He said, "We are making history, because the employment service is operated by youth."

The Y.E.S. youth staff would like to thank the parents who attended this luncheon. We would also like to say again how much we appreciate the interest the adults are showing in us. A special thank you to Mr. Clifford Dabney of the Esquire.

THE BIBLE

Burning of Bibles

As Jehoiakim, King of Juda, and the princes under King Zedekiah showed their contempt for God by burning the writings of Jeremiah, and confining the prophet in a dungeon (Jer. 36: 20, 23; 38: 1-6), so now men sought to stem the rising tide of reform by burning the Bible and also burning the translators of the Bible.

Bible burning was inaugurated in England by the destruction of copies of the Antwerp Edition of Tyndale's New Testament, at St. Pauls' cross, London, in 1527, followed by the burning of the Second Edition in 1530.

A little later there were wholesale burnings of the writings and translationf of Wyclif, Tyndale, Basil, Barnes, Coverdale, and many others.

Forty-three years after the death of Wyclif, in A.D. 1428, by order of the Council of Constance his bones were dug up and burned. On October 6, 1536, by order of Charles V of Germany, Tyndale was strangled and burned at the stake at Vilvorde, near Brussels.

"If Luther will not retract," wrote Henry VIII of England, "Let himself and his writings be committed to the flames." Such, under the spiritual tyranny, and hate that ruled in those times, was the fate of many who stood for the word of God, and the work that God wanted done in the world, so that people in Seattle and all of the world could hear His voice.

The Bible in Native Tongues

Moses wrote the word of God in the language of the people of his day; the prophets spoke in the fongue familiar to the men whom they addressed; the New Testament was written in the language then current throughout the Roman world.

The translation of the Bible into English by John Wyclif, in 1380, was the chief event in the beginning of the reformation. It also prepared the way for the revival of Christianity in England, then all of the world.

To make such a translation at that time, required a bold spirit which no danger could appal. For making it Wyclif was attacked from various quarters, because, it was claimed, "He was introducing among the multitude a book reserved "exclusively" for the use of the priest. Wyclif exhorted all the people to read the Holy Scriptures in their language. The Catholic Church was furious .....

A sense of awe and a thrill of joy filled the heart of the great German reformer. When at the age of twenty, while examining the volumes in the library of the University of Erfurt, he held in his hands, for the first time in his life, a complete copy of the Bible. "O God," he murmured, "Could I but have one of these books, I would ask no other treasure." A little later he found in a convent a chained Bible. To this he had constant recourse.

Why, thought Luther, should the living word be confined to a dead language? Like Wyclif, he resolved to give his countrymen the Bible in their own language. This he did, the New Testament in 1522, and the Bible complete, the crowning work of his life, in 1534 .....

Impressed with the idea that the people should read the scriptures in their mother tongue, William Tyndale, likewise, in 1525, gave the people his translation of the New Testament, and later, a portion of the Old Testament scriptures. He said that if God would spare his life, he woudl cause the boy that drives the plow to know more of the scriptures than the Catholic priest .....

The first complete printed Bible in English was the Miles Coverdale Edition, printed at Zurich, Switzerland, in 1535. Matthew's Bible, Taverner's Bible, and the Great Bible, prepared at the suggestion of Thomas Cromwell, Earl of Essex, appeared soon after. There was much opposition.

 I can watch your hands in action, But your tongue too fast may run.

 And the lectures you deliver may be very wise and true,

 But I'd rather get my lesson by observing what you do.

 For I may misunderstand you and the high advice you give,

 But there's no misunderstanding how you act and how you live.

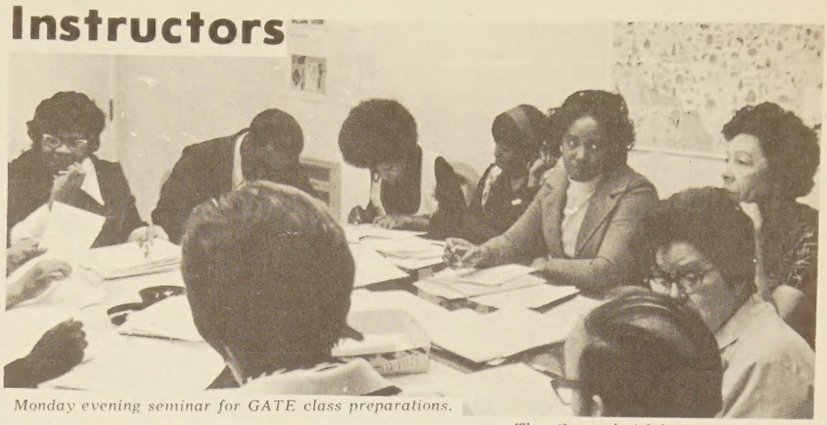
Congratulations Go to Gate Instructors



Monday evening seminar for GATE class preparations.

One on One—GATE advisor C. J. Ollee works with Frances Wilkinson a sewing instructor.

The General Adult Training and Education (GATE) program advisors salute the instructional staff for their overwhelming class room performances.

The majority of the program's instructors are Model Cities low-income residents who have entered the program as para professionals to instruct subjects that are of interest to them and subjects that they have extensive knowledge and experience in. No degrees are mandatory.

To further enhance their skills, all instructors attend a weekly seminar Monday or Tuesday for one and a half hours. It is here that subject content organization methods, communicative skills, material implementation, and informal classroom procedures are learned by participating instructors.

In addition to this, GATE instructors often attend Adult Basic Education (ABE) workshops, where they obtain additional information on how to integrate basic skills objectives in their various courses. (Basic skills being defined as reading, writing, and arithmetic skills.)

There are some 16 area residents participating as instructors in GATE during this fourth quarter who have worked loyally and diligently.

This salute is also extended to all former GATE instructors who participated in the program during the first three quarters.

Congratulations on a job well done!

The Federal Aviation Administration Continues its March Toward Progress

Regional Director Chris Walk emphasizes the fact that despite a reduction-in-force, the FAA's 150 Program continues to hire minority candidates for the Air Traffic Control and Electronic Technician fields. For this year so far, nine young men have been sent for basic training at the Federal Aviation Academy at Okalahoma City.

The program at Oklahoma City is twenty-five weeks long for Eletronic Technicians and seventeen for Air Traffic Controllers. These intensive basic courses in the two options prepare trainees for the work they will do when they return to the FAA's Northwest Region's on-the-job training programs.

Because of the Federal freeze on open hiring, all candidates are recruited through the Veteran Readjustment Appointment. They come on board as GS-4 ($6544) with the possibility of a promotion to GS-5 ($7319) after 6 months. Trainees who successfully complete all assignments and fulfill other Civil Service requirements are promoted after one year as a GS-5 to the GS-7 ($9053) level. Basic requirements for Veterans Readjustment Appointment positions are that the veteran must not have been separated more than one year; must have less than 14 years of education and be honorably discharged. Air Traffic Controller trainees must meet a minimum qualification of passing a written test. Electronic Technician trainees must have a solid background in math or basic electronics, but no written test is required.

For more specific information contact the FAA's Equal Employment Opportunity Specialist, Mr. Ancil Potter, at the Regional Headquarters, Boeing Field, Seattle, or phone 767-2560.

Black aides chide Nixon on busing

By ROBERT O. OWENS

WASHINGTON — (NBNS) — Fifty black officials in the Nixon Administration have criticized the President's school desegregation policy in general and his busing moratorium plan in particular.

Ten of the 12 black attorneys in the Justice Department's Civil Rights Division signed a letter addressed to the Congress.

It said in part: "We as ardent students of the civil rights struggle have concluded that the recent fervor in the area of busing is nothing more than a thinly veiled attempt to sacrifice the rights of minority children to racist pressure groups and political expedience."

In what seemed to be a reference to a controversial remark made by former White House Aide Daniel P. Moynihan, the lawyers wrote that the policy of "benign neglect" mentioned by Moynihan "is being transformed into malignant hypocrisy."
